Five Hundred Narrowly Escape Death In Burning Of Salvation Army Hotel.

FAMOUS LIGHT HOUSE HOTEL BURNS

St. Louis Refuge Maintained By The Army Catches Fire And The Inmates Have To Leave Building By The Windows.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28.—Six dead and six dying, four of the dead bodies being burned beyond recognition and five hundred men awakened from a sound sleep by the cry of fire and jumping from the second and third-story windows, is the story of the burning of the famous Light House hotel in St. Louis this morning.

Salvation Army Home.
The Light House hotel is maintained by the Salvation Army and it is known that five hundred men were sleeping in the building when the fire broke out. Of these six are dead, six dying and thirty-five or less seriously injured at the different hospitals in the city.

In Clothes Closet.
The cause of the fire is unknown. It was first discovered by the night watchman in the clothes closet on the third floor and almost as soon as the alarm was given the flames had spread so rapidly that all egress by the stairs from the third and fourth floors were cut off and the occupants had begun jumping to the ground, even before the fire department could arrive and place ladders or spread fire nets.

Wildest Confusion.
The wildest confusion prevailed. The greatest number of lodgers were on the second and third floors. The building is located on the corner of Ninth and Market streets and is but partially destroyed, the monetary loss being very small. Four bodies were taken from the ruins burned to a crisp and two of the injured died in the hospital and six others are not expected to live.

TEST FOR ABSOLUTE DEATH DISCOVERED

German Scientists Will Prevent Fur- ther Horrors of Premature Burial.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, Nov. 28.—A German scientist has discovered the first absolute test of death that has been known and the adoption of which will make the horrors of premature burial a thing of the past. The test consists in the injection of fluorescent—a coal tar and resorcin product—into the tissues of the body. If any circulation exists, the skin, the lips, and all the mucous membranes turn a golden yellow, while the eyes become a brilliant emerald green, and glisten like jewels. The injection takes about thirty minutes to act, and if death is really present no change of color takes place. It is also declared that in cases of simulated death or trance the injection acts as a stimulant and restores the benumbed faculties. The substance does no harm to life, and the color passes away in two hours.

O'BRIEN AND BURNS ARE READY FOR "GO"

Quick and Shifty Philadelphian Will be Given Hard Tussle—Jeffries to Referee.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 28.—It has been a long time since any pugilistic event in this vicinity has aroused the sporting fraternity to such a keen edge of anticipation as has the match between "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Tommy Burns, which is to be decided tomorrow in the arena of the Pacific Athletic club. There is a big demand for tickets and the club expects every foot of space commanding a view of the ring to be filled when the gong calls the men to battle. While O'Brien, acknowledged one of the shiftest and cleverest fighters who ever put on the gloves, is naturally looked upon as the probable winner, Burns has showed up so well in his recent fights that he is counted upon to give the fast Philadelphian a hard tussle for the decision. It is the practical certainty that the fight will be a fast and furious affair that has attracted to it so much attention. The selection of Champion Jeffries to referee the contest has added to the public interest. Both men have trained faithfully for the contest and reports from their respective quarters are to the effect that they are in the best of condition. O'Brien never looked better in his entire career, although he has not trained so hard as Burns. This is accounted for by the difference in the builds and temperaments of the fighters. O'Brien takes on little or no weight, while Burns on the other hand is flesh up if he does not constantly at work.

Betting Heavy.
Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 28, 2:30 p. m.—The betting on tonight's fight between O'Brien and Burns for the heavyweight championship of the world is very heavy, the odds ranging 10 to 6 to 10 to 7 in O'Brien's favor.

Belfast is the center of the business, and the accumulation of trees is now of great proportions. Last year a long freight train loaded exclusively with Christmas trees was sent out in one day from Belfast, besides ordinary shipments, and the general prosperity is such that it is expected that the present season's demand will break all records.

IMPROVE BREED OF THE HORSES

STATE UNIVERSITY IS MAKING MANY EXPERIMENTS.

THE LATE BULLETIN ISSUED

Important Legislation Is Being Planned with This End in View.

The most effective methods of improving the quality of horses raised in Wisconsin forms the subject of the latest bulletin of the University of Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment station by Prof. A. S. Alexander, entitled "The Horse Breeding Industry in Wisconsin." The bulletin reviews the effects on horse breeding in Wisconsin of the law which went into effect last January regulating conditions of breeding and providing for the registration of horses and the issuing of certificates by the department of horse breeding of the state university. Professor Alexander also points out the changes and additions necessary in the law in order to make its operation more effective. Among the proposed provisions for consideration at the coming session of the legislature are: an annual or biennial renewal of license fee; specific authority for the department of horse breeding to refuse licenses for unsound horses; the institution of a plan of expert veterinary inspection; and compulsory state veterinary inspection of horses used in breeding.

Defects Frauds
 As a result of the enactment of horse breeding law the department in scrutinizing the pedigree certificates, has discovered a number of instances of fraud in matters pertaining to the age and breeding of horses.
In a considerable number of cases it was found that changes had been made in the date of birth as stated in the certificate of registry. In each case the change had been made by some previous owner of the animal, and often the present owner had no trace of the previous owner, and therefore, was not a party to the fraud.

Bogus Pedigree Certificates
 The department of horse breeding has also discovered the issuance of fraudulent pedigree certificates by accommodating bogus registry companies which extract money from horse breeders who fail to have the pedigrees of their horses accepted for registry by recognized registry associations. These bogus pedigree registry companies, Prof. A. S. Alexander points out, supply their patrons with faintly printed, ornamental, attractive registry certificates upon which appear great glittering seals giving them the look of authenticity which is calculated to deceive the unsuspecting breeder. In most cases the owners were not aware that the pedigree certificates were not authentic until they applied for licenses from the state university department of horse breeding. The bulletin warns breeders against "recording" in any "stud book" not recognized by the department of agriculture at Washington and by the department of horse breeding of the college of agriculture. For the information of breeders a list of recognized stud books is printed in this new bulletin.

Should Raise Special Breeds.
 The advisability of breeders uniting for concerted action in the breeding of horses urged in the last bulletin of the department is again emphasized. On this point Professor Alexander writes: "Already there is evidence of work of this sort being done in several districts of the state. Breeders have combined, agreed upon the breed they preferred, and in arriving at that decision, have taken into account the prevailing blood of the good mares of their district. They then have formed companies and procured suitable stallions of the same breed. In some instances they have purchased here and there, in Wisconsin and outside, high-grade or purebred Percheron mares owned by members of a breeding association. While in the same district are many high-class grade mares of the same blood.
Soon such a district will become famous for its draft horse stock of this particular breed, and that is the sort of reputation needed by each breeding district of the state. So long as each district produces a heterogeneous collection of horses of all manner of blood combination, no success will be attained in attracting buyers ready to pay good prices for the class of horses they wish to find in sufficient numbers. There is no consistent demand for the mongrels and misfits. They find merely local demand at small fairs and on the farm, and often the cash expended does not return the cash expected for their keep while growing to maturity."

"Here and there over the state one can find other centers in which some one breed or grade of live stock has been made a specialty, and to such centers go the buyers ready and willing to purchase at remunerative prices over more animals than are ready for their needs." Professor Alexander continues. "There should be hundreds of such centers celebrated for their horses of the same distinct and valuable type. Centers of this sort are needed, in which the buyers can find a given kind of horse; centers where heavy draft horses of one or other of the well known breeds may be found uniform in type and excellence of development; and other centers where the buyer may find ready to his hand hundreds of high class carriage horses.
But on every breed should be found striving, one against the other, in each district of the state. Such is too commonly the objectionable condition existing at the present time.
There is nothing to be gained by such a short-sighted policy. In unity there is strength. By uniting for the production of one standard, necessary, profitable product in a given district the breeders may confidently count upon success, and it is hoped that such a policy may soon direct the breeding operations of every horse-producing district in Wisconsin."

To Encourage Breeding Through the efforts of the department of horse breeding a state horse breeders' association was organized last spring with an influential membership and a vice-president in each county, and these officers will be expected to accomplish much good work toward the encouragement of the law new breeding season and the organization of county horse-breeding associations during the coming winter. At the first meeting of the state association $500 was subscribed by a few enterprising members as premium money for competition at a spring stallion show which it was intended to hold. Eventually, however, the fund was offered for Wisconsin horses at the state fair, and the state board of agriculture duplicated the sum. The $1,000-extra prize money this offered helped to bring out one of the best exhibits of horses ever seen in Wisconsin.

The bulletin urges again the formation of similar associations in townships and counties throughout the state in order to advance the best interests of the industry. The membership of such associations, the bulletin says, should include those breeders who own the same class or breed of horses and who will pledge themselves by every legitimate means to further the interests of the association and of the breed represented. It would be the work of such associations to protect the interests of their members, provide suitable stallions each year for use upon the mares owned by the members, advertise stock, attract buyers; hold sales, make exhibits at the county, district, and state fairs, insist that none but licensed stallions shall be allowed to compete at fairs, hold meetings for the discussion of horse-breeding matters, and educate the farmers of the locality to better methods of breeding, feeding, and developing marketable horses. Township associations might affiliate with county associations through delegates, and in turn delegates might be appointed to represent county associations at the annual meeting of the state horse-breeding association.

SMOKERS WANTED BY NATION'S CHEMIST

Dr. Wiley Will See What Ecce Tobacco Has Upon Human Beings.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—There is a probability that Dr. Wiley, the government chemist, will institute a series of experiments to determine the effect of tobacco on the human system at no distant day. He has conducted experiments with preservatives and deleterious substances and has announced his intention of experimenting to find out the effect of sal-tine, and other chemicals on the human system. He will also conduct tests with liquors and it is understood that tobacco will be in for experiments by the bureau. As is well known, these tests are made on young men, chosen by Dr. Wiley from whatever source he can procure them.

THE PHOENIX HAS APPEARED AT LAST

High School Student Annual Which Should Have Been Issued Last June, Reaches City.

What would have been a source of much amusement last June, full of digs at the graduating class, with their pictures covering many pages and the doings of the year now long forgotten and left behind, the Phoenix, the junior, now the senior class publication of the Janesville High school, has made its appearance. It was printed in Elgin at a cost of $825, after bids of Janesville publishers for $288 had been turned down.
The volume contains the usual school grinds that were "pat" last spring, but flat flat this fall. The work of the student editors, however, is very good and shows considerable care in preparation. The volume, however, loses its real value owing to the lateness of its appearance.

WEEKLY BUDGET OF WASHINGTON

NEWS OF THE NATION'S CAPITAL IS VARIED.

WHAT IS TALKED ABOUT

Correspondent Treats Different Subjects in a Skillful Manner.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Deep interest is felt in the outcome of the bold action of Secretary Taft in suspending the order of President Roosevelt dismissing the three negro companies in disgrace from the twenty-fifth infantry. Secretary Taft's act was prompted by the storm of protest that swept into the White House. The question now uppermost in the minds of official Washington is: "Will the President resent this usurpation of executive power, thus causing friction in his cabinet and possibly disrupting the official family?" At the present time the situation is a peculiar one.
Mr. Roosevelt was absent from the country and did not receive the order of public disapproval of his order.
He has returned, but for this reason he may welcome Mr. Taft's action as providing a simple and graceful way for him to shift position without sacrificing his dignity. On the other hand, President Roosevelt has always shown himself a man of convictions and inclined to be petulently jealous of his authority, so that it would not be surprising if he repudiated the Secretary's suspension order. In this case, which would amount practically to a public reproof, Secretary Taft would find himself in a decidedly uncomfortable position, and one in which he would have difficulty to preserve either his personal or official dignity.
It all depends on the way in which Mr. Roosevelt regards the matter. In the meantime Washington is holding its breath.

Dr. Wiley's "poison squad" is coming in for severe criticism this week because of the death of one of its former members. Robert Vance, Freeman, twenty-three years old and formerly an employee of the Department of Agriculture, is the victim of the adulterated food fed him in the interests of science, according to his mother. Three years ago Dr. Wiley undertook experiments to determine the effects of borax and boric acid on the human system, and Freeman was one of the first to volunteer for the "squad." His mother declares the lad, although strong and hearty when he joined the squad, quickly succumbed to the effects of the drugs, and before the six-months' test was completed he was discharged. Then, she says, he went West in an effort to regain his health, but without result. The matter has occasioned a small scandal.

Uncle Sam's pocketbook is much larger this year than last, and treasury officials are looking forward to an immense surplus fund when the fiscal year ends next June. At this time last year the government faced a deficit of $14,500,000, but when the books were balanced this week it was found that there is the snug sum of $15, 000,000 reposing "as a surplus" in the treasury strong box, one-third of this amount having been added in the first twenty days of this month. In the face of these facts there is reason to believe that the coming congress will be more liberal in its appropriations for public works. Chief among these is the rivers and harbors bill, which for the last ten years has carried a ridiculously small amount. It is the hope of those who believe in the development of the natural resources of the country, that the appropriation for this work will be $50,000,000 annually for the next ten years. The condition of commerce, which has grown so much more rapidly than transportation facilities, demands that attention be turned to developing the natural channels of trade that have been neglected for a half century. The railroads for the last three years have been helpless in the great tide of traffic that is growing so rapidly. With rivers deepened and widened, and ports prepared to permit of the operation of fleets of swift vessels and capacious barges, the transportation problem would be solved, freight rates would be greatly decreased and business all over the country would take on an added impetus. The question will be forced on the attention of deputy commissioner next month when the National Rivers and Harbors congress holds its convention here Dec. 6 and 7.

Secretary Hitchcock is going to explode a bomb before he quits office as head of the Department of the Interior next spring. He is looking into charges of "gross land frauds in Wyoming," and it is declared that some proud names will be smirched before the investigation is completed. For the frauds are reported to be as extensive as those of Oregon. The principal violations are said at the door of the Union Pacific, which is said to have acquired vast coal properties by the simple expedient of having alleged "settlers" take up the land under the government grant, relinquishing their holdings afterward to the railroad company. It is said that at the time protests were repeatedly made against the issuance of patents to such "settlers," that they were practically ignored.

Succession to the tortures of an active conscience, an Illinois man has sent a check for $400 to the "conscience fund." The letter containing the check was received by Captain L.
M. Kelly, second deputy commissioner of pensions, and explained that the writer seven years ago dug a well for the government, the contract calling for him to go only deep enough to strike water. Feeling that the government could afford to pay a little extra money, the contractor did not stop digging when he struck water at a depth of seventy feet, but dug to 230 feet farther, thus increasing his earnings. The extra $400 blasted his conscience so that seven years afterward he eased it by restitution.
The letter says:
 "I have come to the conclusion that by getting money by going deeper than necessary is no better than stealing it, so I wish to return about what is right, with some interest."

The question of postmasters' salaries will be brought up at the coming session of congress. At the present time there are glaring inequalities in the pay of the men who preside over the different offices. For example, the postmaster at New York receives $8-000 a year, and is compelled to devote all his time to the work. In the South and West, especially, there are a large number of small cities, ranging in population in the neighborhood of 25,000, where the postmasters receive salaries running between $3,000 and $4,000 a year. These postmasters devote only a part of their time to the work and maintain outside businesses.

The intention of congress is to equalize the matter, either by increasing the pay of the postmasters of the big cities, or by scaling down the remuneration enjoyed by those of the towns.

Winston Churchill, the novelist, who is looked on as the next United States senator from New Hampshire, appeared in Washington this week. The author has been resting and taking his baths at Hot Springs, Va., and his visits were merely a flying one. He declined to talk politics.
 "No politics," he said, laughingly.
 "I had enough of that to last me while in the governorship campaign in my own state. I'm going back to Hot Springs, where I've left Mrs. Churchill. My new book? Having too good a time to think seriously of writing, but I'm doing something on it." Mr. Churchill has congenial company at the Springs in the person of Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor, the Chicago author, who is stopping with him at the Homestead hotel there.

Both the middies at Annapolis and the cadets at West Point have sent invitations to the White House, asking President Roosevelt to attend the annual football game in Philadelphia Dec. 1. The President is expected to give his answer immediately. He has not seen a game between the middies and the cadets since 1901, and it is believed that he will steal a day from official duties to cheer on the gridiron warriors.

Mrs. Austin says: "My buckwheat cakes will please you, if you love the good old-fashioned flavor."

Pitiful.
 Nothing is more pitiful than the man who falls because he is afraid he will not be able to stand prosperity.

Many Men Getting a Sensible Habit In the last few days it has become the popular thing to stop in People's Drug Co.'s drug store and get a packet of Vicks Vapo-Rub. "Chicos," the 5c cigar that has caused many men to get what may be called the "Chic-os" habit.
 It is far more sensible smoke a good 5c cigar-like the "Chico" (and there is no other 5c cigar like it) than to pay double the price and get no better smoke. It is made with a clear, long Havana filler, and is especially pleasing to the man who has been smoking a 10c or two for a quarter cigar. It burns freely, and tastes good clear to the stub.
 Try a "Chico" and see if you, too, do not get into the habit of frequenting People's Drug Co.'s drug store for your supply of cigars.
 Vicks Vapo-Rub "Chicos" are also for sale at King's Pharmacy.

THE SKIDOO PROBLEM

A coin collector had an accumulation of pennies. He told his son he would make him a present of the entire lot if he would put them in boxes, the same number in each box.

There was an odd number of pennies so that if he put an equal number in each of two boxes there would be one penny left over; in a like manner he figured on 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 boxes, but in every case if he put an equal number in each box there would be one (only one) penny left over. The son gave it up and told his father he thought it impossible to perform the feat. His father replied: "SKIDOO—23 for you." The son then put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes, the same number in each box. How many pennies were there?

To make the problem plain: The entire number of pennies was a number, which if divided by any number from 2 to 22 inclusive there will be a remainder of one (only one) and if divided by 23 there will be no remainder.

Before The Footlights.

"The Stolen Story"

This is a play of strenuous American life, written by a former St. Louis newspaperman, who also served on the staff of the Sun in New York, and it has been acknowledged an excellent comedy drama by critics in Boston, Chicago and New York. Theatre-goers await with keenest interest the opening act tonight.

Newspapermen and incidents have been introduced in plays before, but generally in an incidental way and for the most part, inaccurately. Here they are correctly portrayed and the plot of Mr. Williams' play actually from a parallel case on a newspaper right in this city.

The star reporter of a big New York daily, discharged for being absent from the office for many days, captures a big "beat," and walks in to his old office, entirely forgetting that he was dismissed and had allowed himself to be engaged by another paper. "Billy Woods," the absent-minded genius, is a reporter and a writer of remarkable ability. His absent-mindedness is always due to being absorbed by his story in hand. He is in love with the daughter of General Cunningham, a former cabinet officer in local politics through a sense of philanthropy. Billy is called out for a bill to establish water-front parks for the poor of New York city, he invites "machine" politicians to dinner at his home.

Without knowing the significance, the curious contrast in the guests interests "Billy's" city editor, and the star is assigned. He loves Miss Cunningham, finds her there, stays too long, is led astray by enemies, shanghaied on a tramp steamer, is absent from the office for days, returns and is "fired."

He goes to work on another paper, learns that the "ring" have altered a bill by dropping a comma out of an important section, and are about to manipulate a $10,000,000 steel trading on the general's name.

He can verify this only by comparing the original with the printed proofs. The general's daughter helps Billy get this and away he goes to write his amazing exposure. Like his predecessor in real life, he returns to his old desk and starts to turn out copy with his usual facility. Surprised at his re-appearance, the city editor, who discharged him, seeing the first sheet of copy, changes his attitude and prevents anyone from disturbing the genius until the last page of the story is in, and the rumble of the presses is heard. By the publication of the big "beat" Billy wins his girl, defeats the grafting scheme and saves the general from dishonor.

There are four acts. The first is a summer home, the second and fourth, the busy city room of a big New York daily, and the third a corridor in the Metropolitan opera-house.

The entire New York production and cast of thirty-two will appear at the opening. In addition thirty local persons of dramatic tastes will augment the great dramatic scenes.

Miss Charlotte Walker, one of the most beautiful and talented leading ladies of the American stage, who has recently signed a three years' contract with Henry Miller to play the principal female roles in his productions, will appear at the Myers theatre, Thursday, Nov. 29, matinee and evening, in a new romance of the southland, by Louis Evan Shipman, entitled "On Parade." Miss Walker is a native of Galveston, where she first received her introduction to the stage. Her first appearance on the stage was after the Galveston flood, when she took part in the chorus of a musical show during a series of benefit performances. Her ascendancy thereafter was very rapid. Before the end of her first professional season, she was playing leading parts in high grade organizations. Her first appearance on the dramatic stage was in Richard Mansfield's company in 1895, then in 1896 she appeared at the Comedy theatre, in London, under the management of Charles Hawtrey. On her return to America, she played four years with James K. Hackett. Her greatest success during this period was in the character of Virginia Carvel in Louis Evan Shipman's play, "The Crisis." By this time Miss Walker had become one of the favorite actresses in the metropolitan, portraying important roles in "The Prince Chap," "The Embassy Ball," "The Prodigal Son," "The Optimist," "The Embarrassment of Riches," "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," etc., etc. In one season she created no less than eight leading parts, winning much favorable comment from the critical reviewers of the leading cities.

The part of Constance Pinckney in "On Parade" was written especially for Miss Walker, and in this she is credited with displaying some of the greatest work of her brilliant career.

"The Squaw Man" Edwin Milton Royle's new four-act drama, "The Squaw Man," which Leiber & Co. will present at the Myers theatre, Tuesday, Dec. 4, has received much favorable comment from the New York papers where it ran for two hundred and fifty performances at Wallack's theatre. This is from the New York Times.

Edwin Milton Royle has written an ideal of the west that will enjoy, and deserves to enjoy, a lasting and substantial measure of success. "The Squaw Man" is a play for women, and what is rare, it is a play for men. Possibly the most peculiar fact about it is that it is written in such an exceptionally sincere vein that it will move the masculine part of our population as deeply as the feminine.

And few plays do that. It is no unusual thing for women to sigh and weep in the presence of the simulated sorrows of the theatre, but these outbreaks generally and the sterner masculine element smiling serenely in the attitude of superior mental calm. That calmness will be disturbed in the presence of such throbbing heart stories as Mr. Royle has told, and as it is set forth on the stage of Wallack's theatre. For there is rich, red blood in "The Squaw Man," its sentiment is irresistible, and underneath its grim and honest humor there is a suggestive note of deep and lasting pathos, that lingers in the memory long after the curtain has fallen and the footlights have faded from view.

At the Myers theatre, Saturday, Dec. 1, matinee and evening, the new cast of the big musical comedy successes will have its initial presentation. Fred E. Wright's production of "The Beauty Doctor," a musical comedy in two acts, is said to be one of the most elaborate of any musical efforts of late seasons. There is a big, heavily carved and large number of comedians and comedienne to interpret the hilariously funny plot, which, hitting as it does at the salient points of the beauty fad offers opportunities well taken advantage of for funny incident and humorous situation. Mr. Wright has been fortunate in casting his "beauty" comedienne in the hands of those competent people goes with a dash and a merry swing. There are a dozen or more songs that will be whistled and sung and the entire music of the piece is far above the average injected into musical comedy and is well sung by a chorus noted as well for its singing ability as for its beauty and agility. "Rule" songs, "Myron Brown Parovoxell," is one of the best big musical hits of the year. "My Flower of the South," with a catchy chorus that will retain it in the public ear, "Angel Voices," a topical trio, and the many other musical and dancing numbers go to make "The Beauty Doctor" as good a show in a musical vein as it is in its comedy.

DE MILLE TALKED OF STOCK CO. PROJECT

Six Plays Will Be Staged and Scenery Built for Them in Janesville—Season to Open May 20.

After the concert given by the Standard Opera Co. at the Myers theatre Monday evening a representative of the Gazette, had a talk with Mr. DeMille regarding his plans for the organizing a stock company in Janesville next spring. "It is a big undertaking but the only thing that worries me at all is the size of your city," he said. "Yet, I am persuaded that if the people here fully appreciate their opportunity to witness the presentation of a class of plays such as have never been put on the boards in the smaller cities except by the stars—with the seats selling at $1.50—the support we must have will be forthcoming."

Scenery to Be Built Here. All of the scenery will have to be built here and new costumes procured. We will plan to open a three weeks' engagement in this city on May 20, possibly with "Lord Chumley." Some of the other plays from which we may choose are: "My Wife's Husband," "The Charity Ball," "The most popular American play," "The Prince of Hontzau," "The Prince of Zenda," "The Last Paradise," "Men and Women," "Alice of Old Vincennes," and possibly "Bernardine," "Candida" or some other Bernard Shaw play, "The Belles," or any of a number of others which might be mentioned. Two plays will be presented each week—making six in all—and we will probably ask the people of Janesville to assist us in making the selections."

Something About Mr. DeMille. Mr. DeMille has himself appeared in nearly all of the plays above mentioned. He was leading man with Virginia Harman in "Alice of Old Vincennes" and starred in the east in "Lord Chumley." He is an expert swordsman and had a notable role in "The Gentleman of France," and was more recently associated with Arnold Daly in the presentation of one of his Shaw plays in New York. At the present time Mr. DeMille is under contract to write a new play for Cyril Scott, now appearing in "The Prince Chan." His only experiment in the stock line was the organization of a notable company in Denver which is still enjoying great success. His ability to organize a capable company and stage a series of notable plays here is unquestioned. The standing company will be composed of about fifteen actors and actresses, though additional support may have to be recruited for some of the larger productions.

Branch associations are located in all parts of the city.

TILLMAN SPEAKS ON NEGRO. Chicago, Nov. 28.—Senator Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, discussed the negro question Tuesday night at Orchestra hall in his fiery, "untamed" way, and discovered that speech was still "untrammeled" in Chicago. He "went the limit" and nobody interfered.

There were, in fact, occasional interruptions from interested auditors who seemed desirous chiefly of "drawing sparks" from the senator. Sometimes he answered tactfully, but once he told the interrupters to "shut up." The lecture, which was for the benefit of the Chicago Union hospital, was held under strong police protection, which was not called into action.

RHEUMATISM BREAKS DOWN

THE STRONGEST CONSTITUTION

Rheumatism is caused by a sour, acid condition of the blood, brought on by chronic constipation; weak kidneys, poor digestion and a general sluggish condition of the system. Because of these irregularities the refuse and waste matters of the body are not promptly expelled, but are left to sour and ferment, producing irritating acids which are taken up by the blood and distributed to all parts of the system. This acid matter weakens and diseases the blood, so that instead of supplying the body with nourishing, healthful properties it deposits the poison with which it is loaded into the muscles, nerves, bones and joints; and Rheumatism gets complete control of the system. Some suffer almost constantly with the disease; while others have intervals of freedom, during which they live in constant dread of the next attack, when an "exposure" to cold or dampness or some other irregularity will cause the symptoms to return. If the cause is not removed Rheumatism will progress and reach a point where it becomes incurable, and the strongest constitution will break down. "S. S. S." has been curing Rheumatism for more than forty years. It attacks the disease at its head by going down into the blood and removing every particle of the acid matter and building up the weak, sour blood to a state of purity and richness. S. S. S. is the King of blood purifiers, just what is needed for the cure of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice sent free.

THANKSGIVING DAY, 1906

It is well for the American people to take a breathing spell now and then, for life is so strenuous today, that enforced idleness is not a part of the program, and daily drudgery, of both hand and brain, is the happy lot of humanity.

The factory whistle calls to work, six days in the week, with such monotonous regularity, that the music in the call is not half appreciated, and the ability to respond is not always considered a blessing.

So Thanksgiving, 1906, breaks in on the daily routine of life and says to the toilers of every class, "Take a day off and be thankful."

The invitation is so cordial, and so universal, that it should incite in every heart a feeling of gratitude and appreciation.

The day is yours and mine to enjoy, and if we crown it with the true thanksgiving spirit, it will be the red letter day of all the year.

In many homes the past and present will unite, and as the children come back to occupy places long since vacant, around the family board, joy and happiness will reign supreme.

Happy the homes where the old altar fires can be relit on Thanksgiving day, for the associations belong to the realm of sacred things, a realm which time invades all too soon, leaving naught but hallowed memories.

But the day means more than reunions and turkey dinners, for it possesses a broader significance, and should touch a responsive chord in every heart.

It is an American holiday founded by the men, long since dead, who laid the foundation of a nation so well, that its development has unfolded with rapid and marvelous stride.

It was an honor to belong to the little group, whose name continues to live in song and story, but it is a blessing, of which they little dreamed, to live in this glad year of our Lord nineteen hundred and six.

A year in which nature and fortune have joined hands in a conspiracy to bless and help humanity, at every turn of the wheel.

The valleys and the plains have responded to the touch of the husbandman, in generous measure, and the granaries overflow with the products of the soil.

The surplus wealth of the nation has invested freely in industries, and while liberally rewarded, it has contributed largely to the making of self-respecting man and womanhood, by furnishing employment to the large army of hand and brain toilers.

The necessities of life have been secured without worry or anxiety, and many of the luxuries have been a common inheritance.

The ability to work in an era of unusual prosperity, where opportunity inspires hope and invites ambition, is occasion for thankfulness.

That this ability has been utilized to the fullest extent, is evidenced by the fact that a disposition to work is the only requisite to find employment.

This fact should inspire an anthem of individual and national prosperity. The Coxey army and the oldtime tramp are relics of the past, and the memory associated with their history is like a nightmare, for they represented but a fragment of the greater army of unemployed.

Prosperity of the kind now enjoyed, is like the sunshine and rain; it touches every class and condition in life, and only demands effort and appreciation.

If this fact was more generally recognized, the spirit of unrest and discontent would vanish like the dew in the morning sun.

Opportunity stands at the portals of every channel, and with beckoning hand invites to enter and share the wealth which nature and prosperity unfold; not the wealth of another, by confiscation, but the wealth without a claimant, waiting to bless and enrich every earnest seeker.

Hidden away in the recesses of every heart is the divine spark, with which the Creator endowed every soul created.

It may have been long neglected, but it influences, to greater or less extent, the action of every life, for it is the prompter of the voice which always pleads for the right.

It also gives to every man a creed.

and inspires worship at some shrine. It is the one and only link which connects time with final destiny, and when this fact is appreciated, the God who gave it, claims attention and homage.

Thanksgiving day is occasion for gratitude for national and personal prosperity, and the men and women who recognize it most keenly will say in their hearts, if not more audibly: "I thank God for a place in the busy and happy arena of life in this glad year 1906."

Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central railroad, was recently retired from office by the Harriman combination. It is now rumored that Mr. Harriman and Mr. Vanderbilt are responsible for the defeat of the popular president. The claim is made that Mrs. Fish was conspicuous as a leader of the New York 400, and that jealousy prompted action against her husband. There is most always a woman in the case.

Senator Tillman is safe in the presence of a northern audience, and he knows it. People like to be told that they are fools, by a man who is big enough to command attention, and Tillman has tested the mettle of his audiences long enough to find this out.

OBITUARY.

John Abblett
After but a week's illness from which the attending physicians expected him to recover, John Abblett, a native and well-known resident of Rock county, died at the home of his brother, Charles Abblett, owner of the United States Express company's office on East Milwaukee street, at twenty minutes past one this afternoon. The deceased was fifty-one years old and was a farmer in the town of Janesville. He is survived by a wife, one son, Herbert, and two daughters, the Mrs. Ernest Elliott and Mrs. Charles Abblett. He was a member of the Janesville and Edward of Abblett, and two sisters, Miss Katie Abblett of Chicago and Mrs. Michael Raboy of this city. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

His sister, Mrs. Daniel Preller, is expected to come from Mount Vernon, Wash., in the near future and will make arrangements for the burial. The body will probably be shipped to Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Lawrence Barrett
Mrs. Lawrence Barrett died at her home in the town of Center at half-past seven o'clock this morning, at the age of 78 years. Deceased was an old resident of this section, having spent most of her life in Rock county. She is survived by five sons: Peter, John, Lawrence, William, and James. The funeral will be held from the home Friday morning at nine o'clock and from St. Patrick's church at half-past ten o'clock.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sayle died this afternoon after a few hours of life. The sympathy of their many friends is extended to their bereavement.

By Howe's Moving Pictures at the Myers Last Evening, Interested Large Audience.

The semi-annual exhibitions of Lyman H. Howe's moving pictures have become an institution in Janesville, and gradually there is being built up here a loyal clientele which would as soon think of dispensing with the daily newspapers as of missing these stirring life-like reproductions of the great events which focused the interest of the whole world but yesterday. Last evening a large audience at the Myers theatre watched the great wedding pageant at Madrid and saw King Alfonso and his bride descend the stairway to the gorgeous coach at the completion of the ceremony, climbed to the altar of Venus and witnessed the molten lava creeping down its sides; looked in at the running races and wrestling bouts of the great Olympic games at Athens; spent a whole day with a circus and a whole evening with a great carnival—supposedly at St. Louis; and followed the elephants and cattle at work in the teak forests of India, the fishermen of Algiers in a wholesale capture of the great tunny-fish, a wonderful regatta off Mandalay, the ski-jumping in Norway, and scores of other interesting events and episodes. The men behind the screen, with remarkable versatility, reproduced everything from the voice of the mob and conversations between individuals to the trumpeting of elephants, the swish of birds in the tree-tops. From a mechanical standpoint the films are unexcelled and the ingenuity and enterprise of the Howe forces in scouring the two hemispheres for "subjects" are beyond comparison with the efforts of any other firm now in the moving picture business.

SOCIAL EVENING AT ST. PETER'S Excellent Program Rendered and Good Fellowship Prevailed.

Members and friends of St. Peter's English Lutheran church enjoyed the regular social gathering in the parlors of the church last evening. An excellent musical and literary program was rendered, after which light refreshments were served and the evening spent in pleasant intercourse. The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Pearl Peters. A short address by C. H. Hemingway followed, in which the speaker briefly reviewed the work of the church. Then followed a baritone solo by Roy Carter, accompanied by Miss Peters. Miss Ethel Bates rendered a reading in a usual gratifying manner. This was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Cora Anderson, and a piano solo by Mr. Carter. Altogether the evening was a source of much pleasure for all present.

All through the night and far into the chilly morning, a horse which had been driven by a young man who resides on Ruger avenue and who is employed at a livery, wandered about the door-yard of his home, with the driver fast asleep. Finally the nag turned out again into the highway, dragging behind him several rods of clothes-line which had become entangled with the buggy and torn from its moorings, and unlimbing solemnly down the street turned into the livery barn. When the young man was awakened from his slumbers about daylight and asked to explain the presence of the rope he would only say that he had been out looking for his best girl with a lasso.

UP-TO-DATE WORK

The up to date dentist is a tooth saver rather than a tooth puller. People are getting educated up to a knowledge that it is far more to their advantage to preserve their teeth.

Hence many a man is now fitted up with elegant bridge work fastened to his remaining teeth.

Who a few years ago surely would have been condemned to finish his days struggling with a false set of clumsy store teeth in his mouth.

Dr. Richards makes a specialty of beautiful gold and porcelain bridge work.

Work just like your own natural teeth.

Look better than your own ever did. Feel fine.

Grind like a set of mill stones. Last a life time.

His prices are simply $5 a tooth. No doubt you have paid $10 heretofore and not a bit better work in any respect.

Try Dr. Richards for your next dentistry.

GUILTY OR NOT, HE IS UNDER ARREST

J. Gordon Morse, Who Married a Fordville Lady is in Jail at Madison.

"Raffles," the Madison police have named him but at Fordville he was known as J. Gordon Morse. His metropolitan career as editor of the South Wayne paper, piano salesman and good citizen has ended and he now languishes in the Dane county jail awaiting charge on several counts of forgery and misrepresentation.

In his coming trial he is to be defended by Arthur Fisher of this city, a relative of his wife. Captured in Montana where he fled after learning on the Northwestern depot platform in this city that he was wanted for his manipulations of the banks' checks and writing and cashing of checks Morse according to Madison papers shows but little remorse for his actions, and even intimated to Chief of Police Baker of Madison that he would take every opportunity to escape possible on the return trip from the city.

Morse appears to have been the victim of a blackmailer. According to the story he is alleged to have told Chief Baker he at one time served a term in the Missouri state prison and after his release came to Wisconsin to live, marrying a Fordville lady. He bought a paper at South Wayne and was on the high road to prosperity when asked to step to the jail to see a prisoner who asked for him. Here he found a fellow convict of bygone days and since then has had to pay him a hundred dollars a month to keep his story from being made public. It was six weeks ago that Morse met a Gratiot banker on the depot platform of the Northwestern road and was informed he was wanted by the sheriff of Lafayette county. According to his story told to the Madison police he telephoned his wife to meet him at Evansville and she accompanied him to Madison, refusing to go any further and he went toward the west. Here his Cassie Chadwick methods of doing business brought the troubles upon him that led to his capture. He is held under three thousand dollars bail, waiting trial on charges which if guilty may send him to the state prison for seven years.

O. H. PYPER,

STEAMER IS LOST WITH ALL HANDS

THE J. H. JONES FOUNDERS OFF CAPE COCKER, GEORGIAN BAY.

VICTIMS MAY NUMBER 40

Indians on the Christian Islands Find Two Bodies and Wreckage—Violent Gale Sweeps Over Lake Erie.

Wlarton, Ont., Nov. 28.—The coasting steamer J. H. Jones, owned by the Crawford Tug company, a local concern, founded off Cape Cocker Tuesday afternoon and all hands were lost. The crew consisted of 12, all from Wlarton, and the number of passengers is estimated to be at least 16.

The Jones, which plied between Owen Sound, Wlarton and Manitoulin island ports, was one of the staunchest steamers on the Georgian bay, and was commanded by Capt. Crawford, a fresh water navigator of large experience.

Part of the cable, a lifeboat and two unidentified bodies have been found by Indians on the north shore of the Christian islands. Boats are now out from here, Owen Sound and Penetanguishene and Parry Sound looking for survivors and wreckage.

List of the Victims.

Coasting boats carry no booking lists, but the passengers on the Jones probably include the following: T. J. Donaldson, of Owen Sound; Alex. Ly. and Mrs. Lyon, his mother, Mrs. Fox, Frank Falon, George Falon, M. W. Viteon, Louis Allen, I. M. Wags, all of Tobemorty; Dan Melver, of Providence Bay, and three unknown men on their way to Manitoulin island to work for Capt. Graham.

While estimates received here as to the number of lives lost in the wreck of the Jones are, as a rule, 25 or 26, one report says the list of dead may reach the appalling total of 50.

The Jones was a wooden vessel built in 1888. She was 107 feet long and of 152 tons burden.

All Hope Given Up.

Owen Sound, Ont., Nov. 28.—All hope that the steamer J. H. Jones, missing since last Thursday, was somewhere along the Georgian bay, was abandoned when word came from Penetanguishene that Indians had found one of the Jones' boats on Christian island, together with some wreckage.

Twenty-one persons were on board the Jones when she left here, and others may have been picked up before the disaster occurred.

Gale on Lake Erie.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—A gale which reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour raged on Lake Erie a good part of Tuesday, and compelled even the big passenger boats to seek shelter. The City of Erie, which left Buffalo Monday night, did not arrive here till 11 o'clock Tuesday night, and came in over 12 hours late. Owing to the gale and the heavy sea, the steamer was compelled to shelter at Long Point for several hours. Several vessels from the upper lakes which had been caught in the storm in that section, and about whose safety great fears had been felt, came into port late Tuesday. The only craft missing from here is the whaleback barge 118, bound from Conneaut with coal in tow of the steamer J. B. Eads, which broke away from the steamer 15 miles north-west of Fairport Tuesday. The tug Monarch, which was bound from Conneaut to Toledo with a scow, dropped her tow here and she was sent out to search for the missing whaleback. The latter it is thought will ride out the storm safely and will be found at anchor.

FILED ON LAND FOR OTHERS.

Witnesses Heard in the Nebraska Land Fraud Cases.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 28.—The first testimony of special interest in the trial of Bartlett Richards and Will G. Comstock, officers of the Nebraska Land & Feeding company, and certain of their employees, charged with land frauds, was introduced Tuesday. T. J. O'Keefe, a newspaper man of Alliance, Neb., who has been United States commissioner at that place since 1874, told of going to Ellsworth on June 28, 1904, at the request of Bartlett Richards and executing 46 filings under the Kinkaid law. This was done in the office of the Nebraska Land & Feeding company. He said the applications were all prepared and the fees of one dollar for each filing were paid by the applicants, except in two cases, where in Mr. Richards paid them. The applications, he said, were left in the office of the land company and he did not know who paid the charges at the land office.

Four other witnesses told how they fled on land for others, or induced homesteaders to do so.

ADMITS COAL MONOPOLY

RIO GRANDE ATTORNEY DOESN'T LIKE THE UTAH INQUIRY.

Witness Says Railways Planted Dynamite to Blow Up Machinery of Oil Well Prospector.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 28.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clarke Tuesday resumed the investigation of conditions affecting the coal trade in the inter-mountain country. The legal departments of the Gould and Harriman railroads were present and were permitted to cross-examine witnesses. E. M. Allison, Jr., attorney for the Rio Grande system, in an argument against permitting the investigation to take the wide scope proposed, admitted that there is a monopoly of the coal trade in the inter-mountain country.

S. Spence, of Evanston, Wyo., an attorney, told of the methods of the Union Pacific Coal company in acquiring coal lands in Wyoming and in keeping out opposition companies. He testified that agents of the Union Pacific company used dynamite in their efforts to keep men with oil well drilling machinery out of Uintah county, Wyoming. When prospectors attempted to take in their machinery, he testified, a trench was dug and filled with dynamite and men were instructed to blow up the machinery if an attempt should be made to take it into Uintah county over land claimed by the Union Pacific under grant of the government.

Mr. Spence testified that the sheriff of the county was called and the mine was exploded, but the earth was heaved up in such manner that approach to the oil prospect on the sidehill was impossible. The witness admitted that he was one of the incorporators of the American Consolidated Oil company, which had attempted to develop oil prospects in Wyoming.

An affidavit of A. J. Smith, of Denver, in relation to the acquisition of coal lands in Wyoming by the Union Pacific Coal company, in which charges of collusion between the coal company and officers of the United States land office at Evanston, were made, was introduced as evidence. This is the affidavit that was recently forwarded to the secretary of the interior.

J. T. Marchand, who is conducting the examination for the government, shifted the investigation to the coal properties in Utah controlled in the interest of the Denver & Rio Grande system.

State Senator Geo. N. Lawrence, of Utah, was called, and the fact was brought out that he had entered Utah coal lands near Sunnyside on the advice of men employed by the Pleasant Valley Coal company, and that for a consideration of $100, he transferred his right to a Mr. Judson.

Geo. E. Hare, special agent for the general land office, was questioned in regard to the investigations which he has made of entries for certain coal lands now held by the Utah Fuel company.

It was here that Attorney Allison entered his objection to the taking of testimony of this character, and asked what the commission would do after taking such testimony if the Utah Fuel company brought witnesses who would testify quite to the contrary.

Commissioner Clarke, with some heat, replied:

"I have lived 15 years in Utah, and you can't intimidate me with any threats."

MIGHT REINSTATE NEGROES.

President Holds He Has That Right If Circumstances Justify It.

Washington, Nov. 28.—President Roosevelt holds that he has the power to reinstate in the army any of the members of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth regiment of colored infantry who were discharged without honor as a result of the trouble at Brownsville, Tex., some time ago, if the circumstances of any individual case justify such action. Whether he will avail himself of that power, according to the president, will depend on such evidence that may be presented to him in the case of any one or more soldiers which will tend to clearly exculpate them from any participation in the incident.

Those who talked with the president Tuesday on the subject found him unyielding in his original stand in the matter, with the exception that in individual cases where the facts warranted it, he said, the men might be reinstated.

Some statement is expected from the White House in a few days defining the president's attitude and clearly outlining his reasons for ordering the discharge of the three companies of men.

Black Hand Sends Internal Machine. Washington, Pa., Nov. 28.—An attempt was made Tuesday by unknown parties to kill Burgess A. C. Marsh through the medium of an internal machine which he received by mail. The arrangements failed to explode when opened. The sending of the internal machine is credited to the Black Hand society, which Burgess Marsh has tried to break up.

Girl Student Goes to Prison.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 28.—Elsie Jacobs, the 18-year-old college student of Mount Pleasant, Ia., who attempted to swindle the First National bank of Galesburg out of $1,000 by means of a bogus check, was sentenced in the circuit court at Galesburg Tuesday to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary.

Having a friend who lost his life by an operation, I desisted from ever having that experiment tried on me. I owe you a debt of gratitude. BRILLIANT WEDDING IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Cousin of Famous Langhorne Beauties Bride of Successful War Correspondent.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—Selma has Washington witnessed a pricier or more brilliant wedding than that which took place Tuesday in St. John's Episcopal church, uniting in marriage Miss Alice Langhorne of Washington and Virginia and Mr. Stanley Washburn of Minneapolis. The affair was attended by the elite of Washington society, including members of the diplomatic set, high government officials and the prominent members of resident society. Mrs. Powell Clayton, Jr., was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridegroom had his brother, Mr. E. C. Washburn, as best man. An elaborate wedding breakfast at the Langhorne residence followed the church ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Langhorne and comes of a family famous for the beauty of its women. She is a cousin of the beautiful Langhorne sisters of Richmond, one of whom married William Waldorf Astor, Jr., and another is the wife of Charles Dana Gibson, the artist. Mr. Washburn is the youngest son of former Senator William D. Washburn of Minnesota, and his work as a war correspondent in the recent conflict in the far east gave him a fame of his own. Mr. Washburn is on the steamer en route to Japan. Mr. Washburn was on his way to Manchuria, while Miss Langhorne was going to Manila to visit her brother, Marshall Langhorne, who was then in the customs department of the Philippines and is now secretary of the American legation at Christiania.

"Only 3 1/2% of Alcohol" The highest scientific and medical authorities in the world unite in declaring that the alcohol (about 3 1/2%) contained in a bottle of pure malt beer like

Gund's Peerless Beer

It is not enough to inject anyone with sufficient to naturally stimulate the regular flow of the gastric fluids within the stomach, so essential to the proper assimilation of solid food. Professor Dr. E. Steube, Berlin, Germany, says: "Owing to the small amount of alcohol in beer the same cannot be called an alcoholic beverage in the usual sense of these words. Peerless is an agreeable, wholesome and fully matured beer of commanding superiority. Because of this it is not only the best food for the stomach but also the best tonic for the system. It is a refreshing and invigorating beverage, delicious, snappy, frothy and creamy. It has been brewed for 60 years by the famous Gund & Sutermeister process that preserves the life of the malt. It is brewed from the choicest ingredients—the essential tonic juices of the Bohemian hops, special yeast of our own cultivation, water flowing from a well in granite rock and the purified extract of rich, stumpy and young Northwestern barley. Bottled at the home plant only. Sold in all reputable hotels, cafe restaurants, etc. Ask your waiter to bring you a glass of beer or a bottle of beer for your home use." For family use no beer could be better.

For Bronchitis

it heals the bronchial tubes and remedies the cough

For centuries old-fashioned cod liver oil has been prescribed by physicians the world over for coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs and consumption, but many could not take it on account of the useless fatty, fishy oil which enveloped the medicinal curatives, and it often failed to help those who could take it because it upset the stomach.

Anyone can take the delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which contains all the medicinal curatives and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cod livers, but no oil or grease, and where old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions would do good, Vinol will do far more good for all bronchial and lung troubles.

We ask every person in Janesville suffering from chronic colds, coughs, bronchitis or weak lungs to try Vinol on our guarantee.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Janesville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.
